

EMBEZZLEMENT.

The Michigan Central Ticket Robbery. The Detroit Press of August 1, says:—"Some thing over two years ago a highly respectable young man of excellent business attainments, named William H. Shaw, obtained a clerical position in the Statistical office of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, which he retained about a year, serving his employers faithfully and with such ability that he was appointed to a position in the general ticket office. In this position he had the handling of all the tickets collected by the conductors on the entire line. Within two or three months after his promotion Shaw became acquainted with one Marcus Burnstone, meeting on the avenue, where some, greeting and asking about his employment in the ticket office, Burnstone asked him if he had ever run across any uncanceled passage tickets. Shaw replied that he had seen a few, and that he then had two or three in his pocket. Burnstone examined them, pronounced them good, and proposed to buy them, which he did, paying for first-class tickets from Detroit to Chicago, $2; for second class tickets, $1; seventy-five cents for third class, and fifty cents each for local tickets. A regular bargain at these rates was then and there consummated, and whenever Shaw, in asserting the conductor's tickets, happened to see any that were not purchased, he took possession of them and sold them to Burnstone, the two having had various places of meeting, one of which was in Shaw's home.

The robbery was discovered, and both were arrested. The tickets at the appointment at the hour, Messrs. George Hebbes and G. V. N. Lottrop, opening in behalf of the people, and Messrs. J. Logan Caiman, D. G. Holtrop, and T. R. Gilet for the defense. In addition to the facts already given, Shaw testified that in the fall of 1866 it came to his knowledge that a box of tickets, from Detroit to Chicago, which had been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway, was stored away in the vault. One day while rearranging his books and papers, he discovered the contents of the safe, he noticed that the box in which these tickets were packed was partially broken open; that, prompted by curiosity he took out one package, in which he found several uncanceled tickets. He communicated the fact to Burnstone, who told him to take the package to his (Shaw's) house and he (Burnstone) would call and examine them. Shaw followed these instructions, and Burnstone, agreeably to appointment, went to the house, selected such tickets as he desired, paid Shaw for them at the rates agreed upon, and told him to fetch all the tickets in the box, which he did that same day. At their next meeting Burnstone selected a large number, making, together with those he took on the occasion of his first visit after the discovery of the box, some four hundred. Those which had been cancelled were destroyed by Shaw, under the instructions of Burnstone, the parties were placed under heavy bail to answer.

THE TURF.

The Fastest Pacing Time on Record. The Buffalo Express of the 3d inst. says:—"When we announce that yesterday Billy Boyce paced a mile in 2:14, and repeated it in 2:14, we shall doubtless cause a feeling of regret in the minds of thousands who were deterred, through fear of rain, from witnessing the fastest time on record.

It was nearly 8 o'clock when the horses appeared on the ground, the track, which had been quite wet, having begun to harden, but being by no means as fast as generally is.

First Heat.—The pace set slowly as the horses went off in the first attempt, Rolla Gold Dust crowding him hard. Boyce soon drew away, and at the quarter was two lengths ahead in 37 seconds. The crowd began to cheer in the backstretch. When near the half he went up, and before he could be got to a square pace was obliged to come to a stand still, Rolla meanwhile closing up, passing and leading at the half in 1:15. The pace set in and turned into the homestretch ahead amid cries of 100 to 30 on Boyce, with no takers. A moment later he was off his feet, and Rolla, who had trotted fairly around without a skip, came in a dozen lengths ahead in 2:14.

Second Heat.—The horses went off as one, flying round the turn like lightning, the excitement among those who were holding watches being less on the tremendous rate of the pace than at the fact that Rolla was keeping in front in good style. No rutting horse could keep up to such a gait, but though the race kept opening, Gold Dust never went off his feet. Boyce flew past the stand in 2:14, making the fastest pacing time on record. Rolla being just beyond the distance flag as it fell.

Third Heat.—Boyce again led, and began to open the gap, going like the wind, under the skillful handling of Murphy, who seemed to sit to him like a feather. Flying by the quarter in 34, he went for the half, making it in 1:08, and rounding for the home stretch amid the most intense excitement. "Hell beat his own time," shouted the enthusiastic crowd, as he flew by, and all eyes were fixed on the judge's stand, who immediately announced time at 2:14. Gold Dust trotted finely, making the mile in 2:27.

Fourth Heat.—Boyce seemed to be doing so well that no one would bet on the race, and he broke, and the widest odds were offered without takers, the only bets being on the question of time. Boyce was four lengths behind on the start, but soon passed, and went around leading in 37 seconds, making the half in 1:08, and the heat in 2:20, making the mile in 1:08, and the heat in 2:20, making the mile in 2:27.

Summary.—Buffalo Driving Park, August 1, 1868. Free for all horses under saddle, pacing or trotting. A. Carr names Billy Boyce, 2 1 1 1 L. L. Dorsey names Rolla Gold Dust, 1 2 2 2 Time, 2:14, 2:14, 2:14, 2:20.

RIOTING.

Negroes Take Possession of the Mobile Street Cars. The Mobile Register of Aug. 1, edited by John Forsyth, the notorious secessionist, has the following:—"Yesterday evening about 7 o'clock, a large crowd of negroes, numbering about four hundred, stopped a Davis avenue car near Cleveland street, and as many as could crowd in, and directed the driver to go on; this he refused to do, and put down his brakes. The crowd outside then by main force shoved the car along for some distance, but finally desisted, and those inside got out. At this juncture a white policeman, a dirty scoundrel, whose name we have as yet been unable to learn, directed the negroes to re-enter the car, which they did, and then ordered the driver to proceed. The driver again refused, when the policeman attempted to take the reins out of his hands, but was very soon compelled to desist by having a revolver pointed at his head. The negroes, finding that they were unable to take a ride, lifted the car up, and placed it across the track. A squad of policemen arrived upon the ground, and the crowd dispersed. Only one arrest was made, that of a white man for abusing the police.

Soon after an attempt was made by five or six negroes to get aboard a car on the Dauphin Street road, opposite Bienville square, but they were deterred from carrying out the purpose by the prompt action of a policeman, who drew a revolver and threatened to use it if they entered the car. At this time a serious disturbance seemed imminent, but was prevented by the arrival of a squad of policemen, who arrested five of the riotous negroes.

The negroes now seemed to be very much excited, and assembled in strong force on the line of the various street railroads. The conduct of the negroes was now becoming to be so outrageous, they threatened violence, that a serious difficulty would undoubtedly have ensued had it not been for the prompt action of Mayor Price, who gave orders that the street cars should be run, and enforced his order by stationing a number of policemen upon every car, who prevented the negroes from entering. The entire police force were immediately placed on duty.

The negroes engaged in the disturbance were composed of the faction headed by the white villain, Myers, and the negroes Lankford, Alexander and Joshua Davis, who, on the 4th of July, caused a split in the radical party, and the disturbance at the scaleway barbecue at Wilkinson Street Grove on that day.

THE BILIOUS SEASON.—Seventy-five per cent. of the population of the United States are more or less bilious at this season. The midsummer sun stirs up the bile as certainly as it evolves malaria from the stagnant pools. It is of the utmost importance, therefore to check the tendency of the liver to diseased action with that incomparable anti-bilious specific—

HOLLOWAY'S STOMACH BITTERS. Neglect the early symptoms, and the chances are that they will result in remittent fever, fever and ague, or jaundice. It is presumed that nobody deliberately desires to risk an attack from any one of these. But carelessness may be as disastrous as temerity. Do not procrastinate. As health is the greatest of earthly blessings, it should be every rational being's first care. Whoever chooses to use HOLLOWAY'S BITTERS as a preventive now, may escape the bilious epidemics and epidemics which so generally prevail toward the close of the heated term and in the fall months. It is not worth while to be forewarned when the means of defence are within the reach of all! The BITTERS are a NATIONAL REMEDY, everywhere procurable, and endorsed by the intelligent of every class. Read what leading members of the community, clergymen, physicians, authors, statesmen, men of science, artists, travellers, and distinguished soldiers, say about them. On the strength of these testimonials give them a trial. They will be found the very best anti-bilious medicine that modern pharmacy has introduced.
